HIGHWAY TUNNEL GETS ITS FACE WASHED

Allan Maillard, employee of California Division of Highways, turns spray on lights along top of northbound Waldo Tunnel during wash-down of the tunnel's interior, which began today. When northbound tunnel clean up is completed, southbound tunnel will get washed, too. Whole job is expected to take five days, and is being done from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily, to prevent interference with commute traffic. (Independent-Journal photo)

Tiburon Gets Fund For Sewer Project

Tiburon Sanitary District has been granted $119,730 in federal funds for sewer plant enlargement and outfall construction, Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.) reported today from Washington.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare approved the grant as federal share of sewage plant modification and construction of an outfall. The original request had been for $150,000, based on a $500,000 estimate. Engle said the allocation was based on a current estimate of $407,100 as cost of the whole job.

The district board on Feb. 14 approved engineering plans and specifications.

Approval of the Army Corps of Engineers for installation of an outfall as entailing no navigational hazards had been received just before.

The outfall will lead from the processing plant to Mar East and Mar West Streets, emptying Racoon Strait and extending 35 feet from shore at a point near the newly constructed Elephant Rock fishing pier.

Eventually the outfall is expected to be extended 80 or 100 feet out from shore.

Enlargement of the plan followed a contract with Belvedere voters passed a $450,000 bond issue last Sept. 13 to pay for additions to the Tiburon treatment facilities.

House Power To Probe Reds Upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI)—By a 5 to 4 split, the Supreme Court today reaffirmed the authority of the House Committee on Un-American Activities to investigate communism.

It did so by affirming contempt convictions of two witnesses who refused to answer questions during committee inquiries.

The two—Frank Wilkinson of Los Angeles and Carl Braden of Louisville, Ky.—appeared before a subcommittee in Atlanta July 30, 1958, during an investigation of Communist propaganda in the South.

House Probe Group Chief Will Retire

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Francis E. Walter, chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said today he will retire from Congress when his current term expires.

The Pennsylvania Democrat, a House member since 1933, blamed poor health for his decision not to run again. He was re-elected last November to a two-year term.

Walter said he suffers from asthma and has been advised to seek a better climate than Washington's.

Walter has been chairman of the Committee on Un-American Activities since 1955. Next in the seniority line of the committee's Democratic side is Rep. Morgan M. Moulder of Missouri.

$8 MILLION DEAL

L.A. Firm Purchases Marin's Dutron Corp.

Dutron Corp. of San Rafael has been acquired by R. I. Thompson Fiber Glass Co. of Los Angeles, it was disclosed today.

The purchase, which was effected through the exchange of shares, was valued at approximately eight million dollars, according to William C. Winterhalter, president of the Los Angeles firm. In the transaction, 411,640 shares of Thompson common stock was issued to holders of Dutron common on a share-for-share basis. An additional 13,450 shares also were authorized for a restricted stock option plan for Dutron employees.

Dutron, through its wholly owned subsidiary, Dumont Manufacturing Corp., is a principal fabricator of plastic insulation and ablation components for the missile industry.

Winterhalter said the Dutron acquisition will provide added strength in technical and management personnel, increased production capacity, and accelerate new product development. Dutron, with sales last year in excess of $5,800,000, is a pioneer in the manufacture of compression molded missile components. Components are used in nozzles, engines and nose cones.

Among missiles incorporating Dutron components are the Minuteman, Polaris, Pershing and Bomarc.

Combined sales for the two companies during the next 12 months should exceed 20 million dollars and it is expected net after tax earnings will keep pace with the increased volume, declared Winterhalter. The company will operate as a wholly owned subsidiary under the Dumont Manufacturing Corp. name, the president said, and no change in personnel is planned. Robert M. Daiss, who has headed the company for the past three years, will remain as president of the subsidiary.

U. N. Threatens To Employ Force After Congo Attacks

3 Lost Kids Home Safe In South Marin

Two lost boys "found themselves" last night in Tamalpais Valley but a little lost girl had to have quite a bit of help Saturday night in Sausalito.

The two Tamalpais Valley boys were objects of a nine-man search in the hills between Tamalpais Valley and Muir Beach.

STARTED HIKE

Christopher Badger, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford K. Badger of 626 Northern Avenue, and Jack London, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome M. London of 629 Northern Avenue, started a hike at 2:30 p.m. headed for Muir Beach along a fire trail.

When they did not return by 5:30 p.m. their parents became worried and started a search. At 6:30 p.m., the Badgers called Tamalpais volunteer firemen. Fire Chief Herbert (Bud) Owen, plus three volunteers, five other men and two boys began to comb the hills in cars and on foot.

At 7 p.m., the boys telephoned the Badger home from the Shoreline Market. They said they had left the fire trail to explore the woods and got lost.

MOTHER FRANTIC

"I was frantic," said Mrs. Badger.

The Sausalito girl, about 18 months old, was found walking along Spencer Avenue, dressed but barefooted, at 6:30 p.m. Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Connors of 7 Miller Avenue, who were driving from their home to San Francisco.

The girl carried a set of door keys. She was unable to tell the Connors where she lived, but Mrs. Connors found a door open, at 181 Spencer Avenue and tried the little girl's keys. One of them fitted. But no one responded to knocking at the door.

The Connors called police, who took the tot to the police station, then returned to the home. Entering, they found Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Gerry, the child's parents, both asleep.

Officers awakened the couple and told them their child was at police headquarters.

Mrs. Gerry, appearing at the police station a few minutes later and claimed the girl.

Crowd Shuns 'Other Side' Of Riot Film

A showing of the House Un-American Activities Committee film, "Operation Abolition," in the Mill Valley's American Legion Hall last night drew a crowd of about 150 who refused by standing vote to permit reading of an eight-page American Civil Liberties Union report on "the other side of the picture."

The request came from Ron Davis of 46-A Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, during a question period being conducted by Fred G. Dupius of Tiburon after showing of the film, which depicted riots against the House Committee during its San Francisco hearings in May, 1960.

"What other side?" called a couple of voices. "I don't want to listen to that. I want to go home," shouted another.

Dupius asked Davis if he could give briefly the highlights of the eight-page report; but Davis insisted he would have to read the whole report.

The chairman then put it up to the audience, and the vote was roughly 2-to-1 against hearing the ACLU's "other side."

ROBERT PAXTON
Retiring early

G.E. President Quitting; Ill Health Blamed

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph J. Cordiner, chairman of General Electric Co., resigned today as chairman of the National Business Advisory Council. Simultaneously he announced the retirement of Robert Paxton as G.E. president.

Cordiner said, however, that he was remaining as a member of the council, which advises the secretary of commerce. He said he was giving up the chairman's job to take over the G.E. presidency until a new president is picked.

Paxton, 59, is leaving General Electric two years in advance of his planned retirement because of ill health, Cordiner said.

The announcements came in the wake of government anti-trust actions in which General Electric and 28 other electrical equipment manufacturing companies were fined nearly two million dollars on charges of rigging bids and prices.

Seven officials of the companies, including three from G.E., were sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Cordiner's announcement made no mention of the anti-trust actions or their results.

2nd WIFE IN MAINE

Theft Suspect May Face Bigamy Count

A former Larkspur restaurant operator, who allegedly left town with his wife's car last October and returned to another wife and four children in Maine, was to appear in court today to face an auto theft charge.

George Francis Gay, 28, who ran the Gay-Larks restaurant at 1125 Magnolia Avenue, was brought back to Marin last night by Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark.

Clark said a bigamy charge also may be played against Gay. His marriage to a woman in Portland, Me., was never dissolved, Clark said, and he married his Larkspur wife, Alice Florence, last July. The latter now lives in San Francisco, the chief said. The restaurant operated by the Gays has been closed since December.

Mrs. Alice Gay complained to police last Oct. 27 that her husband had stolen her car.

Clark said Gay sold the car in Flagstaff, Ariz., in November, thumbed rides and rode trains to get home to Maine. He allegedly cashed bad checks in San Diego and Las Vegas on the way.

He was picked up in Portland, Me., Jan. 14, about a year after he had disappeared from his home there. Gay's wife in Maine said he frequently left home for a few weeks at a time, wandering around the country and then returning home, Chief Clark reported. He was married Aug. 16, 1954 and had four children.

Clark flew east Wednesday and returned with his prisoner last night. Gay was held on $2,625 bail.

High Tribunal Decides For Wiretap Use

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today decided wiretap evidence may be used in criminal trials in state courts.

The court ruled in a case from New York, where the state's constitution and statutes permit police wiretapping if authorized by a state supreme court justice.

Wiretap evidence is barred in federal courts.

The high tribunal's decision was announced in an unsigned order.

Justice William O. Douglas wrote a dissent in which Chief Justice Earl Warren joined. The court's vote thus was 7-2.

The court's order noted that the judgement of the federal courts in New York was affirmed on the authority of two earlier decisions by the U. S. Supreme Court in other wiretap cases.

Personnel Assaulted As Rebels Advance

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—The U.N. Congo command threatened force against Congolese troops in Leopoldville today after a wave of attacks against U.N. personnel including the rape of a woman attached to the U.N. civilian staff.

Violence against off-duty personnel broke out last night and early today in the jittery atmosphere arising from the advance of Lumumbist troops toward the capital.

A statement issued by the U.N. command said these attacks cannot be tolerated and will be resisted "with full force."

A spokesman said the attacked woman was being driven home by an unarmed U.N. Sudanese officer last night when the car was stopped by soldiers on a highway some distance outside Leopoldville.

CANADIANS BEATEN

In another incident, four unarmed U.N. Canadian troops in a jeep were halted by Congolese troops near a scenic monument overlooking the Congo River.

They allegedly were ordered to take off their shoes and run for a mile over rocky ground while the Congolese beat them rifle butts.

The leftist troops heading unopposed toward Leopoldville posed a threat to both the central Congo government and the future of the U.N. Congo operation.

The intentions of the rebel force from Stanleyville which backs the late Patrice Lumumba's regime in the northeastern Congo are unclear. Half the country now is believed under Lumumbist control.

NO RESISTANCE

The military column of about 500 men has met no resistance so far from either U.N. or central government soldiers. Most of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu's government troops are hundreds of miles north in Equator Province, asked by the U.N. command to hold up their own planned invasion of rebel-dominated territory.

Arriving amid this new uncertainty was G. Mennen Williams, U.S. assistant secretary of state, here on a five day visit planned weeks ago.

His party of 19 was to go directly from Leopoldville Airport to a private briefing by U.S. Ambassador Clare H. Timberlake. Williams is to talk tomorrow with President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Joseph Ileo, then meet Rajeshwar Dayal of India, head of the U.N. Congo mission.

The way Dayal has handled his job has created expressions of anger and mistrust among Congolese loyal to the Kasavubu government.

CATHERINE WASHINGTON
'I'm not 100 yet'

100th Birthday Nearing For Marin Woman

Mrs. Catherine Washington leaned back in her well-stuffed chair in her apartment at 9 Cole Drive, Marin City, today and anticipated her 100th birthday on Wednesday.

"I'm not 100 yet," she cautioned. "Tomorrow is a long, long day."

The grey-haired negro woman, who has outlived her husband and six children, gave her formula for longevity: "Obedience to all your fellow men. That's the answer," she said.

She was born free on a Maryland farm in 1861 (her parents' owners had freed them before the emancipation proclamation in 1863.)

She married a missionary, George James Washington, and followed him for 22 years in his "circuit preaching" in Africa. In Ethiopia the couple bought a young girl, Juanita, on the slave market for $2.50. Mrs. Washington recalled. She is the only other survivor of the Washington family, and currently lives in Rome, Italy.

Of the Washingtons' six natural children, the last died in 1898.

Her husband died in 1909. Mrs. Washington moved to California in 1932 and to Marin two years later.

For the past four years she has lived in Marin City. Arthritis of both legs and hips confines her to her room except for one day a month when she is driven by a friend to Sausalito to cash her state old-age pension check.

Southern Floods Uproot Thousands

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Swollen rivers continued to pour over the stricken South today, where 10,000 or more persons have been left homeless.

Damage from week-long floods in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi will run into millions of dollars.

The Red Cross began establishing an emergency field disaster headquarters at Montgomery for flood victims.

At least 12 persons have died in Southern flood waters caused by torrential rains which lasted most of last week.

Stricken areas at a glance: Alabama—Montgomery and central Alabama were worst hit. At least 3,240 have fled their homes, about 1,500 at Montgomery and 700 at Selma.

Gov. John Patterson plans to ask for federal disaster relief.

Mississippi—Hattiesburg was worst hit, with 3,600 refugees. Damage estimated up to 10 million dollars. Gov. Ross Barnett appealed to President John F. Kennedy to declare flooded areas major disaster area.

Georgia—Columbus and West Point on Chattahoochee River at Alabama line suffered most damage. Police at Columbus estimated 1,000 left homes.

Tom Stowe, Red Cross information officer from Washington, flew over the central Alabama area yesterday and said it "looks like a sea." He said more than 15,000 persons apparently are directly affected by the floods in Alabama.

The Chattahoochee River on the Georgia-Alabama line reached a record crest twice yesterday at Columbus, Ga., causing what was described as the worst flood in 32 years in that city. Police estimated nearly 1,000 persons fled their homes at Columbus.

National Guardsmen were patrolling at many Alabama cities to guard against looting.

Guardsmen used landing boats in efforts to rescue stranded cattle. Hundreds of cattle drowned, and it was feared the loss would mount into the thousands.

Snow fell early today over portions of the upper Midwest, northern New England, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico. Rain was reported over the lower Midwest, portions of the plains states and northern Pacific Coast.

Powerful winds that raked the El Paso, Tex., area yesterday subsided. Little damage was reported.

Other sections of the country, hard hit by unseasonal storms over the weekend, moved into mopping up operations today.

Parts of Indiana dug out of 10-inch snowfall. Drifts piled up to four and five feet. Scores of roads became impassable.

NATIONWIDE MANHUNT

Missing N.Y. Girl Found Slain; Murderer Sought

NEW YORK (P)—The search for 4-year-old Edith (Googie) Kiecorius is over.

Another has taken its place—a nationwide manhunt for the murderer of the girl.

Edith's half-clad, bruised body was found yesterday in a shabby rooming house only hours after her widowed mother had prayerfully insisted, "No one can hurt such a beautiful child."

A medical examiner said Edith apparently had been beaten to death but an autopsy was ordered to determine the exact cause. The girl was sexually assaulted. The examiner approximated the time of death as last Wednesday—the day the child disappeared from in front of her uncle's home two blocks away.

Accompanying the nationwide alarm was a description of the toothless, middle-aged man who rented the room Feb. 17 and was last seen an hour before the child vanished. Police said the man registered at the drab West Side rooming house under the name of Fred Thompson.

Edith, her mother, Mrs. Alvin Kiecorius; her grandmother, Frances Ductet, and her brother, Albin, 10, were visiting her uncle, Manuel Ductet, at his home when she disappeared.

New officers were elected at a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Southern Marin Recreation Center. President for the coming year will be Lloyd M. Stark. He succeeds F. W. Zimmerman, who will serve as vice president. Mrs. Stanley T. Peterson was elected secretary and Robert M. Wineman, treasurer.

The board voted to reopen the swimming pool on Saturday, March 25. Working drawings for two additional tennis courts plus night lighting was authorized. Honorary membership was granted Mrs. Elmer Boyden, whose husband recently passed away. Boyden was on the original board of directors and had continuously aided the development of the Center.

Morocco Mourns King's Death; Son Takes Over

RABAT, Morocco (P)—Morocco's new king posted heavy security forces around strategic points today to keep a firm hand on the potentially explosive political situation created by the unexpected death of his father, King Mohammed V.

The popular 51-year-old monarch's heart failed yesterday after a minor operation, a team of 10 doctors announced.

The crown prince, Moulay Hassan, 31, was proclaimed king. An energetic, forceful young man educated in France, he was named in advance by his father as his successor in 1957.

Together they had run the government of this North African nation of 10 million since last May, trying to head off leftist challenges by outdoing their opponents in friendly overtures to Moscow and increasing estrangement from the United States.

As preparations went ahead for the funeral in the royal palace tomorrow, police and troops were posted around nerve centers in Rabat and other major cities.

Thousands of mourners paced the streets of Rabat chanting verses of the Koran. Women massed around the palace, tearing their robes in shreds, scratching their faces wailing for the dead king.

Four ambulances shuttled between the place and clinics carrying women who fainted.

Messages of condolence came from President John F. Kennedy, French President Charles de Gaulle, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic and other leaders.

The king had undergone a minor operation in the palace clinic for correction of a restricted nasal passage. Brief surgery had just been completed when the king's heart failed, the doctors said. They tried to revive the monarch with heart massage, drugs and electrical shock. After a three and one-half hour fight, he was pronounced dead. The crown prince announced his father's death in a radio broadcast.

The cabinet met to proclaim the crown prince as King Moulay Hassan II. It ordered seven days of mourning for the old king, a national hero in the long fight for independence from France.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) talked with Eisenhower for an hour recently at his Palm Springs vacation spot. In a news letter he sends to constituents, Mundt yesterday gave his impression of Eisenhower's views.

"LEFT OF CENTER" "He is critical of the tendencies thus far evidenced by the JFK administration—too much left of center; too partisan; too slanted toward programs supported by union bossism," Mundt wrote.

Mincing no words, Eisenhower issued this disavowal through a secretary:

"Senator Mundt's statement as reported to me does not accurately describe either my views on public affairs or my personal plans, and I very much regret its issuance.

"The senator evidently intended to repeat in detail our private and purely social conversation, but his recollection of the many subjects mentioned and his interpretations differ markedly from my own.

"NO JUDGMENT" "Especially I regret the assessment attributed to me of the performance of my successor and his administration, on which subject I have formed no judgment.

"Moreover, I have always directed my public criticism to ideas and programs—never to individuals. While in that conversation and on prior occasion I have expressed opposition to certain pledges in the platform adopted in Los Angeles, I have likewise expressed the earnest hope of every loyal American that the future actions of the new administration will promote the overall welfare of the United States."

Mundt could not be reached for comment on Eisenhower's statement.

UNIFORMITY RAPPED

Educators Told They Have Much To Learn

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—The people who run the nation's schools were told today they still have much to learn about the products they are dealing with—children, education, and the process of learning.

Dr. L. D. Haskew, vice chancellor of the University of Texas, said the schools must search for new ways to foster and encourage variation.

"The process involved in learning to read English by a 6-year-old from a Spanish-speaking home," he said, "is sharply different from that involved when the learner is the son of a college professor of American literature."

Haskew told the American Assn. of School Administrators that "the pressures toward uniformity are great. But uniformity is an unfriendly host to the process of learning."

"All too often," he said, "we administrators sacrifice real efficiency in the learning process to pacify fellow-Rotarians who hear that we are not teaching the alphabet any more, or that we let pupils get all the way through first grade without reading classic fairy tales too grisly for even television to use."

Haskew said the schools should use every available facility, human and electronic, to improve education.

Pleasure Boat User Due Refund

Many Marin pleasure boat owners have a tax refund coming.

The 6-cent state tax on each gallon of gasoline is refundable if the fuel is used for boating, announced State Controller Alan Cranston.

Claims must be submitted within 13 months after the purchase and must be supported by invoices showing the name of the person who purchased and used the fuel, date of purchase, name and address of the seller, amount and kind of fuel and cost of fuel including taxes.

Refund forms and instructions can be obtained by writing the Controller's Division of Tax Collection and Refund, P.O. Box 1019, Sacramento, 5.

Spending Doubles

NEW YORK (UPI)—The cost of governing is rising even faster than the cost of living.

Tax Foundations, Inc., a private tax study group, reported yesterday that federal, state and local government spending more than doubled between 1950 and 1960. Ten years ago, governmental spending totaled 70.3 billion dollars. Last year, the figure was 153 billion. And in fiscal 1961, it will be almost 161 billion, the foundation said.

Job Problem Cited

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (P)—President John F. Kennedy's top labor adviser says finding jobs for 26 million entrants in the work force during the next decade is the nation's No. 1 domestic problem.

Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, gave that figure in addressing a banquet given in his honor last night by the AFL-CIO union officials whom he formerly served as chief counsel.

Aides of Goldberg explained that while jobs must be found for 26 million workers in the next 10 years, vacancies for about half that number will open up due to death and retirement among present workers. Thus, they said, an estimated 13 million additional jobs are needed.

Stolen Car Jumps Road, Destroyed By Flames

A stolen MG sports car was destroyed by fire yesterday after its unknown driver rolled over on the Shoreline Highway. The car was stolen from the lot of Gaye's Imported Cars, Highway 101 and Alto Wye, Saturday night, reported the California Highway Patrol. Its driver apparently lost control of the 1958 model car on a curve two miles south of Stinson Beach, about 12:30 a.m., and flipped over, the highway patrol said. There is a possibility the driver was injured but a check of the hospitals failed to locate a victim, the highway patrol said. A fire truck from the Marin County Fire Department substation at Marin City fought the blaze. The fire department estimated the loss at between $2,500 and $3,000.

SUNDAY SERMON

There Are No Strangers, Declares Episcopal Pastor

Rector Harold E. Hallett, speaking to his congregation during morning worship yesterday at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross, declared "There is no such thing as an outsider who does not have a claim upon us." The point of union in God through Jesus Christ was illustrated by Rector Hallett by the story of a "visit by our Lord Jesus Christ to a foreign country and his reaction when a foreign woman approached him to heal her sick daughter." The minister explained that the Canaanitish woman approached Jesus when he was probably fatigued and desired a period of quietness and rest, and perhaps had just fled Palestine from ecclesiastical and political enemies into a foreign country. If he performed the miracle it would create much publicity and clamor.

Church Awaits Speaker Tonight

A talk on "The Modern Movement for Liturgical Worship" will be given by Rev. Massey H. Shepherd Jr. of Berkeley's Church Divinity School at 8 o'clock tonight at Holy Innocents' Parish Hall in Corte Madera. Almost all Christendom today is undergoing liturgical reform and renewal, according to the speaker, nationally known for his many books on the subject, the most recent, "The Liturgical Renewal of the Church." His talk will be open to the public. This evening's talk, arranged by the Episcopal Church Women of Holy Innocents' Parish, will be preceded by Evensong in the church. The talk was announced in error in Saturday's Independent-Journal as being scheduled for last night.

tion that each of us must struggle with, and come to the inevitable, if difficult conclusion. When we dedicate ourselves to the will of God, there is no such thing as an outsider who does not have a claim upon us. "All of us to some extent like to keep to our own kind. We segregate ourselves in suburbia. We limit our friends. We join only one section of the divided church. We have our own cultural groups. "But in today's world we are forced to meet with strangers. The races of the world are no longer isolated, and even in our midst there are the tensions that result from racial differences. The religious differences within our country are multitudinous and we can no longer go on our way contentedly ignoring the persons of vast groups who belong to other religious traditions. "There was a day when we could try to hide from ourselves the fact that there were people of other customs and points of view, but our television screens refuse to let us live any longer with a narrow and elite group, Rev. Hallett declared. "The Christian is in the same situation that Jesus faced when confronted by the woman of Canaan. There are many people very different from ourselves who are looking to us for fellowship and help. The United States of America long since has recognized that it cannot be isolationists in a modern world. The white people of the world had better recognize soon that they cannot afford to be exclusive in an atomic age. Our fragmented churches must soon face the fact more realistically that our oneness with all Christian people is essential for the welfare of all. "The Christian must not only say that there is one God, the Father of all, but he must live out this conviction. "For the deep truth," concluded Rector Hallett, "is that for the follower of Jesus Christ there is an essence no such thing as one who is outside—no one whose need should not concern us." Man Accused Of Ramming Auto Twice "Attack by automobile" was alleged by a northbound motorist on Highway 101 Saturday afternoon after another car twice bumped his vehicle from behind and in front. Jack Lepinski, 43, a salesman of 1446 Buchanan Street, Novato, said he was about 2,000 feet north of the Terra Linda overpass when a car coming up from behind nudged the rear of his automobile with its bumper. The other car, which he identified as driven by Paul Stanley Walsh, 20, of 1027 Las Pavadas Street, San Rafael, then went around him, and according to his story to the California Highway Patrol, slacked back and struck the front of his car. This caused him to hit the guard rail right of the road and ricochet back across the highway into the divider strip. Lepinski suffered cuts and bruises for which he said he would see his own doctor. Walsh denied involvement in any accident. It was still under investigation by the patrol today.

Rezoning Bid Due Before Novato Body

Developers of the R. W. Hanna property at Highway 101 in Novato will ask the city planning commission tonight for rezoning to permit commercial, industrial and residential use of the land. The acreage lies east of Highway 101 and north of Highway 37 where Hanna is planning an "industrial park." Commissioners will also be asked for approval of an excavation use permit to begin filling and grading of some of the property. Commissioners will begin their meeting at 8 p.m. in the city hall. Also coming before them will be an application for a use permit for construction of an auxiliary building by the First Baptist Church on South Novato Boulevard, a second hearing on the master plan for construction of buildings on the Safeway property at Highway 101 and Diablo Avenue, and an informational report on trailer courts.

All poets attending are invited to bring a poem on that or a related subject for reading, and, if desired, discussion and constructive criticism.

HENRY H. COLE Chosen as fair designer

Designer For Art-Garden Fair Chosen

Henry H. Cole, San Rafael landscape architect, has been chosen by the board of the Marin Art and Garden Fair to design this year's event with an "Esprit de France" theme. Cole has designed three previous fairs, in 1956, '57 and '58, June 30 through July 4 in Ross. Cole is planning a newly designed entranceway off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard featuring a canvas canopy. There will be more and larger exhibit spaces this year, he says, an enlarged planting area around the fountain, kiosks typical of Paris and the red, white and blue French national colors predominating. Cole was born in Marin in 1924, attended San Rafael High School, College of Marin and University of California at Berkeley. His landscape design office is in San Francisco. He resides at 441 Hickory Lane, San Rafael. Marcelle B. McCoy of Sleepy Hollow will be manager of this 16th annual edition of the fair. The fair executive committee consists of James S. Goodale and Richard F. Tyler of San Rafael; Herman E. Hein, Mill Valley; John C. Gilman, Ross; Mrs. Frank C. Stratford, Ross; all members of the Art and Garden Center board of directors.

Thomas M. Redmayne Jr., 24, of 17 Boardwalk, Larkspur, must pay a $52.50 fine and make restitution for damages to a San Rafael police officer's uniform in a scuffle on Feb. 20. Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Redmayne Thursday for resisting Officer Richard Douglas, who stopped him for possible traffic violation. Redmayne put up a fight, ripping off Officer Douglas' badge and necktie. The judge ordered Redmayne to pay for a damaged flashlight as well as the police uniform. He will be on probation for six months.

Love-Stricken Girl Suicides In Car Crash

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP)—A farewell note to her sweetheart was found beside the body of a cheerleader who crashed a station wagon into a concrete pillar at high speed near here. The California Highway Patrol said it appeared that Lynn Marie Bennett, 16, of San Mateo swerved into the Highway 101 overpass pillar deliberately Saturday night. She had driven the 190 miles from her home in about three hours, they estimated. A four-page note found in her purse indicated she was upset over a recent breakup with her boy friend, officers said. Her parents told police that she and Dennis Chandler, 16, a classmate at San Mateo's Aragon High School, had broken up last Thursday. They had been going steady for two years. Her father, Charles D. Bennett, is a math teacher at Aragon High. Radio manufacturers produced more than 5.5 million radios, or 35 per cent of their total output for automobile use.

Burglars Break Into 4 Unoccupied Homes Here

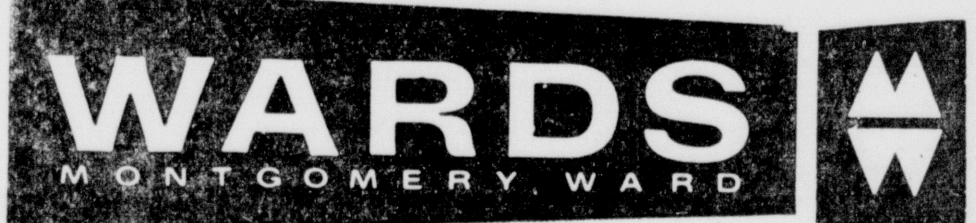

Burglars broke into four unoccupied houses in Marin County during the weekend and stole shelves, drawers and jewelry. At a recently completed house at 15 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax, burglars took two sliding glass doors and two light fixtures, according to Mrs. Nickie Fowler of Fardin Realty Co. of San Rafael, who discovered the loss at 1:15 p.m. Some shelves were taken from the kitchen, she told Deputy Sheriff John Harris. Burglars entered the vacant house of William G. Porter, 46, on Bolinas Road near Fairfax, through an unlocked front door. From a jewelry box in the bedroom, they took a gold ring, pearl necklace and cross valued at a total of $125. Porter discovered the burglary at 8 p.m. Saturday. A house at 31 Wolf Grade in Kentfield, being constructed by Quin J. Ongaro, was entered by burglars who took 18 kitchen shelves, 12 book shelves and two kitchen drawers, Ongaro reported at 11:35 a.m. yesterday.

Guild Orchestra, Guest Give Fine Performance

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

A fine performance by the Symphony Guild of Marin Orchestra and guest artist Gabor Rejto thrilled a near-capacity audience Friday night at Novato High School in the second concert of its ninth season.

The program was especially satisfying to those who, like conductor Sandor Salgo, admire the balanced proportions and orderliness without superfluous ornamentation of 18th Century music, which are also characteristic of some 20th Century music.

Except for Berlioz's flamboyant "Benvenuto Cellini" overture, which provided contrast and a brilliant finale to the evening, the program reflected this taste.

Haydn's concerto for violin-cello and orchestra in D major featuring Rejto was a perfect example of this style of the earlier century, and Bartok's concerto for orchestra was a modern illustration.

For sheer musical delight, Rejto's playing of the Haydn concerto was the high point of the evening. A virtuoso of the first rank, he plays with an expressiveness and perfection of phrasing that is reminiscent of Casals.

But from the standpoint of a fresh and exciting experience, Bartok's concerto was the most interesting number, particularly in the allegretto scherzando movement and the allegretto (interrupted intermezzo) with its amusing jibe at a Shostakovich theme.

Under Salgo's intelligent musicianship and sensitive direction, the orchestra is steadily gaining in stature.

Only disappointment of the evening was that Rejto played only the one number despite prolonged acclaim.

Mill Valley Pianist Sets Program On Beethoven

Istvan Nadas, Hungarian-born concert pianist now living in Mill Valley, will give a lecture-recital on "The Life and Music of Beethoven" Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the Mill Valley Outdoor Art Clubhouse.

A concert and recording artist of international reputation, Nadas has played with many leading symphonies and chamber groups in this country, Europe, South American and Canada. Since his appointment to the faculty of the San Francisco Conservatory of Music last September, he has played before enthusiastic audiences at universities, colleges and musical organizations in the Bay Area.

For his program Thursday night the artist will play and discuss three complete sonatas representing Beethoven's early, middle and "deaf" periods, the "Appassionata," the "Pathétique" and Opus 111 in C minor.

Widely known also for his Bach performances, Nadas will begin on television station KQED the night before this

SECOND IN SERIES

Gleeful Youngsters Enjoy Music Program

Anyone passing San Rafael High School between 10 a.m. and noon Saturday might have thought the roof was likely to be blown off.

The uproar came from about 650 youngsters making like thunder and lightning under Dick Ford's instructions in the "Music for Minors" program. The theme was "Music as Dance." There were performances at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m.

The kids "had a ball" dancing in their seats—with arm and head motions mainly—and screaming with glee as Ford impersonated a chimpanzee, a bear and a mother kangaroo with her baby.

Best part of the program was a dance expressing the shape and sound of instruments in the orchestral family, done by 14 fifth grade to high school students in one of Ford's workshops.

Performed to a special album of music on "Instruments of the Orchestra," the dance was choreographed by four Tamalpais High School girls: Julie Taylor for strings, Wendy Philbrick for brasses, Arlen Okubara for woodwinds and Diane Carr for percussion.

Their imagination in devising positions and dance steps without help from Ford was remarkable, and costumes of black tights with gold or silver designs suggested by instruments or colorful tunics over the black tights were pictorially effective.

Also interesting was the "Grand Canyon" dance performed to music from Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite" by Ford, his wife, Marguerite, and Judith Modell, a teacher at their Mill Valley studio.

The trio also danced an amusing interpretation of "The Old Lady Who Swallowed the Fly." Concluding the program was the "Hoky Poky," another audience participation stunt.

Leroy Miller was the competent accompanist for this second program sponsored by the Symphony Guild of Marin.

Completes Training

Marine Pvt. Roderick J. Land, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max U. Land of 69 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, has completed recruit training at the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

Baroque Orchestra To Give Second Concert On Sunday

San Rafael's newly organized Baroque Orchestra will appear in its second concert Sunday at 3 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College.

Under direction of Hugo Rinaldi, director of music for San Rafael schools, the series of four concerts is presented by the San Rafael Recreation Department in cooperation with the Symphony Guild of Marin and the music department of Dominican College.

Guest artist will be pianist David Del Tredici of San Anselmo. He will play Johann Sebastian Bach's concerto No. 5 in F minor and four of his own compositions.

Other numbers on the program will be Handel's concerto grosso opus 6, No. 1, with concertmaster Daniel Shelasky playing first violin and Everett O'Bannon, second violin, and Ernest Bloch's concerto grosso No. 1 for full string orchestra and piano. Faith France, a member of the Dominican College and Katharine Branson School faculties, will play the piano.

There will be no admission charge, but donations will be accepted.

Paintings On Display

Paintings by Evelyn Mitchell of San Anselmo are on exhibit in the lobby of the Lark Theater, Larkspur, and will remain through March. Her specialty is watercolor landscapes.

Davidson School Students Elect

Chuck Rada was elected president of the student body of San Rafael's Davidson School for the spring term. He won in a four candidate field defeating Thomas Frady, Steven Owles and Laron Caberet.

John Sheets was elected eighth grade vice president, and Jent Ahern, seventh grade vice president, Marta Hayes, secretary and Dana Miller, treasurer. All are eighth graders except Janet Ahern.

Bond Issue Sale Resolution Due At Board Meet

A resolution to sell the $187,000 balance of the 1957 bond issue will be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The resolution, if passed, will request the Marin County Board of Supervisors to place the bonds up for sale to secure funds to build the Laurel Dell Intermediate School.

The trustees will also discuss the possible expulsion of a high school student.

The board is also slated to set a time for the annual personnel meeting.

Nuisance Abated, Charge Dismissed

A public nuisance charge against an assistant United States attorney living in Mill Valley was dismissed Friday in Marin Municipal Court because the nuisance (a dog) had been abated.

The district attorney asked the judge to drop the case against Charles E. Collett of Molino Avenue because Collett disposed of his boxer dog, Judge Harold J. Haley dismissed the complaint.

The charge stemmed from numerous complaints by neighbors against the dog.

Cal Riemcke's Marin Record: 4 Seasons, 4 Pennants

By PAUL MILLER
A lot of basketball coaches would be gratified with winning four straight basketball games. But there is a head man over in Kentfield who has just captured his fourth straight league championship!

He's Cal Riemcke, head coach of the College of Marin Tars who Friday whipped American River Junior College at North Sacramento 69 to 66 to share this season's Golden Valley Basketball Championship with Shasta Junior College. Both clubs ended with 8-2 win-loss records.

That marked Riemcke's fourth straight title since coming to Marin in the 1957-58 season and Marin's fifth straight. The Tars, under Coach Irwin "Red" Diamond, won the pennant in 1956-57 just before Riemcke arrived.

Early this season Riemcke could not foresee another championship. But he told his team after Friday's victory: "You fellows are short on height, but you're long on heart, and this is what it has brought you."

Riemcke's extra praise goes to his first seven players: Lynn Livie: "Best shooter I've ever coached." Ron Blum: "Plays an excellent all-around game." Ernie Bray: "Consistent." John Blomquist: "He set up our offense." Dale Aman (became eligible only this month): "Floor leader, rebounder and sparked the club onto victory in the second half of season." Mike Rawitser: "Reliable and steady, like Bray." Mike Gaffney: "I was greatly surprised with this player. He had never played basketball before and after some experience early in the season, became a real asset to us."

Riemcke will lose only Aman and Blomquist next year, and said he hopes to pick up some height from graduating high school seniors. From all indications it looks as if Riemcke will be after another championship in the making.

"My philosophy of basketball the successful mentor offers

"is rather simple: Long, stiff practice sessions, and a well disciplined and conditioned squad."

The Marin coach also has what he calls the five "S's": speed, spirit, stamina, student, and sincerity. "If a team concentrates on these, winning will go right along with it," said the coach.

Coach Riemcke is 34. He was born in Yakima, Wash. where he lived until he was 11, when he moved with his family to San Francisco. Several years later the Riemckes moved again, this time to Livermore. They finally settled in Martinez where Cal attended Alhambra High School and played first string basketball and football.

After high school he entered the University of California as a physical education major and was sixth man on the Bears' basketball club. Riemcke went on from his Bachelor of Science degree to get a Master's degree, also in physical education. While doing graduate study he played basketball for the National Industrial League. Riemcke played on the old Oakland team and it won the National Amateur Championship that year.

From Berkeley, where he met and married his wife Eileen, Riemcke returned to his home town high school and coached his alma mater team for four years. The club, undersized for its league, never won a championship under Riemcke, but it did finish in the money a time or two. Oxnard High School in Ventura was coach Cal's next base.

Chuck Thomas, sports editor of the Ventura County Star-Free Press, called Riemcke, "a guy who picked Oxnard High School up out of a 20-year-long slump and made it one of southern California's top teams in just three years." Thomas recalled that Oxnard High had not won a championship since 1936.

In Riemcke's first year at Oxnard he recorded a 13-14, won-loss record. He concentra-

Redwood, San Rafael, Tam Cagers Help Rewrite Cage Record Book

Commissioner Victor W. Jones was busy rewriting the Marin County Athletic League record book today following Friday night's completion of the exciting 1961 basketball schedule.

Jones has most of his bold face type ready for the Redwood Giants as a team and Randy Petrini of San Rafael and Conrad Hoetger of Tamalpais in the individual record book.

Special chapters, too, will be set aside for Tam, Marin Catholic and even Novato, which hasn't won a league game in two years.

Redwood, of course, will be logged as undisputed league champions for 1961, succeeding Tamalpais on the throne and representing the league in the Tournament of Champions in Berkeley next month.

Redwood's was a remarkable comeback story as Coach Dick Hart's Giants played like paties early in the year and like real champions in the home stretch when the chips were down.

DURING the practice schedule the Giants lost eight of their first nine games, but when it counted toward the championship they were virtually unbeatable, winning 13 of their final 15 games, 8 out of 10 in league play.

To achieve this comeback Coach Hart wove a tenacious defense that held league opponents to an average of 34.5 points per game, a new league record.

In the final two games last week the Giants showed true championship calibre by beating the two teams with whom they were tied at the start of the week—Tamalpais and San Rafael.

THEY ROARED easily past a stunned Tam team Tuesday,

Former Giant Star Nabbed For Robbery

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hank Thompson, former baseball star for the New York Giants, was held in $10,000 bail today on charges of robbing a tavern of $37 at gunpoint.

It was Thompson's seventh arrest since 1938 and brought a severe lecture from Magistrate Herman Weinkrantz.

"You are a very serious disappointment to thousands of baseball fans in this city," the judge said.

Thompson, who quit baseball in 1957 after being traded to the minor leagues, was arrested for allegedly robbing a tavern Saturday night.

Bartender Nathan Goodman said Thompson walked in his bar and asked if anyone recognized him. When the answer was no, Thompson pulled out a revolver and announced the holdup.

A policeman spotted Thompson leaving the tavern as Goodman shouted "holdup." Thompson surrendered without a struggle.

Thompson, 40, identified himself as a public relations man.

56-38, but had a struggle with San Rafael Friday. The Bulldogs jumped off to an 11-3 lead, but the Giants hitched up their belts and went to work, winning 39-33.

"I was really proud of my kids," beamed Hart. "They didn't lose their composure when they fell behind early in the game. That's what coaches, especially at the high school level, like to see in their teams."

Redwood will know later this week its schedule in the Tournament of Champions.

MEANWHILE, Commissioner Jones was proceeding with the other new entries in the record book. Petrini, the big football-basketball star at San Rafael, set a new season scoring record of 142 points in 10 games. The old record was 133 set last year by Terry Tevis of San Rafael.

Hoetger, the Tam, senior, waited until his final game Friday night against Novato to crack the single game scoring record. Big Connie fired 33 points through the mesh, easily breaking the previous record of 27 held by Tevis in 1960 and tied this season by Ed O'Connell of Marin Catholic.

Hoetger's flashy performance also helped Tam and Novato get their names in the record book. Tam's 72-52 victory set two new records: Highest total for one team in a game and highest combined total of 124 points for a game.

Tam also set a record for the highest scoring average per game—49.1.

That's Novato's first mention in the basketball books. The Hornets, varsity and Class B, have reaped for 40 consecutive league losses in the two-year history of the MCAL.

A SPECIAL chapter should go to Marin Catholic's Wildcats as "Cliffhanger Champions" of 1961. They won the Christmas Tournament and looked bound for the round-robin title, but faded before their taller opponents and finished fourth with a 5-5 record. However, they won their last three games by a total of five points; 31-29 over Redwood, 41-40 over San Rafael and 42-40 over Drake. Coach Bernie Schneider deserves a year's supply of tranquilizers after that ordeal!

PANCH CRACKS WORLD RECORD IN 500-MILER

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Marvin Panch today had a new speed record and 20,750 fresh dollars in his bank account as a result of winning the "Daytona 500".

The 35-year-old Daytona driver yesterday covered the distance over the 2½ mile Daytona International Speedway asphalt track at an average speed of 149.601 miles an hour.

Panch's time shattered the previous mark of 138.767 for a 500-mile race set by Jim Rathmann of Miami last year at Indianapolis, and far eclipsed the 500-mile record for Daytona of 135.129 set two years ago by Lee Petty of Randleman, N.C.

Veteran Joe Weatherly of Norfolk, Va., was second.

SPRING TRAINING ROUNDUP

Mantle Told, Take Charge!; Bucs' Stuart Ends Holdout

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, 29, trotted out for a spring training workout today faced with the new challenge of becoming the American League champions' "take-charge guy" after a 10-year baseball career in which he has shunned the spotlight.

The reticent center fielder, who hit .275 while smashing 40 home runs and collecting 94 runs batted in last season, was thrust squarely into the position yesterday when new manager Ralph Houk brought up the subject.

"Mantle could be the leader of the ball club," Houk said. "He has reached the point in his career where that's possible. I'm going to try to bring that out in him. I talked with him when he signed last month and I'll talk to him some more."

Houk said that didn't mean the switch-hitting outfielder would officially be designated captain, a post the Yankees have kept vacant since the late Lou Gehrig retired.

Manager Danny Murtaugh of the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates faced the day with all hands on deck and the annual contract squabbling ended by the signing of first baseman Dick Stuart.

Terms for Stuart, 28, were not disclosed, but the big first sacker who hit .260 during the 1960 campaign and drove in 83 runs while hitting 23 homers, said, "I got almost what I wanted."

TRAINING BEGINS

Mays Only Giant Sure Of His Job

By JACK STEVENSON
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—"What I see is what counts with me. I can't go on what somebody else saw or says."

On that note, Alvin Dark today opened the full spring training for the San Francisco Giants and his first season as a manager. The former field captain of the Giants declared he'll stress fundamentals for everyone, no matter how old he might be or how long he's been playing major league baseball.

"Nothing I do will revolutionize the game," he declares, "but we're going to try to keep from making the mistakes which beat ourselves."

Dark said that for the first month of spring training most of the players, exclusive of pitchers and catchers, will be working out at more than one position.

"The only ones who won't will probably be Willy Mays, Don Blasingame, Ed Broussard and Willie McCovey," he added.

MAYS A CINCH
Unlike last year when Bill Rigney could about set his opening batting order at the start of spring drills, Dark says, "There isn't a position on the club where I'm positive a certain man will play except in center field. Mays will be there if he isn't hurt."

Blasingame will work exclusively at second base, Broussard at shortstop and McCovey at first base.

But Orlando Cepeda and Harvey Kuenn also will be training at first as well as in the outfield.

Felipe Alou will play all outfield positions and third base.

"I don't think Alou has ever played third base for the Giants, but I want to see what he can do," the new manager declares.

Paret Miffed At L.A. Crowd After Loss To Ortega

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gaspar Ortega, twice a victor over world welterweight champion Benny Paret, may get a title shot at the Cuban—but chances are the rematch won't be held in Los Angeles.

"We'll never fight here again," said Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro, after the champ dropped a unanimous 10-round non-title bout to Ortega Saturday night in a nationally-televised bout at Olympic Auditorium.

"I was very annoyed by the treatment my fighter got from the crowd," Alfaro said. "I thought the decision was one of those things. A draw would have been pleasanter for everybody."

Neither man was knocked down in the fast-moving bout.

A Little Sickness Builds Up Immunity

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

A little sickness is good for you.

This idea is not new, but only in the past few years has it been voiced with any authority by spokesmen of all the healing arts.

What do we mean by a "little sickness" and how can it be "good"? First, we have to face the fact that all of us get sick now and then. We know that nearly every child who leads a normal, healthy life will become exposed to colds and to one or more of the usual childhood diseases like chicken pox, measles and the mumps.

These ailments in most cases do more good than harm to the growing child... because they set up a protective immunity against the more serious diseases which may strike later in life. For instance, an attack of the measles, say at four years, could equip the body with sufficient natural defense to ward off a polio attack 10 or 12 years later. This type of natural immunity, tailored by nature to your needs, is preferable to the artificial immunizing agents that man has devised for mass inoculation.

Chiropractors favor natural immunity against disease. This type of protection plus regular chiropractic care of the nervous system—the master system—will ensure that disease is kept to a minimum of frequency and severity.

None of us can escape illness completely but when we do happen to become "off-colors," let's take the shortest road to recovery. Chiropractic care of the spine, when needed, will enhance your natural resistance and immunity by freeing your nervous system of block which drain your resistance to sickness.

MARIN BOWLING HIGHLIGHTS

Mrs. Schwab, Keaton's Team Win Women's Tournament

Mrs. Lois Schwab of San Rafael today was declared unofficial all-events champion of the Marin County Women's Bowling Assn.'s first annual championships which concluded last night.

Mrs. Schwab's total pinnage which she bowled over the Feb. 18-19 weekend, held up through yesterday's final bowling, according to Secretary Jean Molino. All events include combined scores of singles, doubles and team competion. All figures are unofficial. Mrs. Molino said, until scores and handicaps can be double checked.

Meanwhile, other unofficial champions were crowned along with Mrs. Schwab at last night's final action at Greenbrae Lanes.

The team championship was won in a spectacular finish by the Keaton's Mortuary quintet of San Rafael. Bowling in the final squad, Keaton's nosed out the Bowlers Shop team of Marin Bowl for the championship with Bret Harte Super finishing third. The Keaton's team was composed of Dolly Manzi, Roz Kavanagh, Dorothy Willis, Terry Jones and Grace Mueller.

Pat Christopher won the singles title and Fay Scott and Charlotte Warcup of San Rafael were the doubles winners.

Trophy and cash prizes will be distributed at a later meeting, Mrs. Molino said.

All competition was on a handicap basis.

ted on working with the B and C coaches and added a junior varsity schedule. The second year Riemcke's club shared the title with Ventura and the following year, before Cal Riemcke came to Marin, he coached Oxnard to its second championship which it shared with no one.

Sports writer Thomas tells the story of Riemcke standing by a principle that cost him a CIF championship, but gained him much respect. In that last year at Oxnard High, Riemcke's club was in a play-off situation for the CIF championship. Before the playoffs a star player for Oxnard cut a practice, which by Riemcke's rules meant he was through for the season. His presence in the play-off game would have meant victory. Oxnard lost to a team it could easily have beaten.

"I couldn't have looked those second-stringers, who had been working hard all year, in the face, if I let him play," Cal told Thomas.

OTHER JOBS

At Marin College, Riemcke also coaches tennis and golf. Last year his golf team took the Golden Valley Championship. Riemcke also teaches Physical Education and Hygiene at the college.

His other activities, besides winning championships, are fishing, camping, and the leadership of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He is now president of the fellowship's Marin chapter and holds a weekly devotional service with members.

Cal and Eileen Riemcke have two daughters, Robin, 8, and Karen, 5. Mrs. Riemcke was asked if her husband ever talked about basketball at home. "He has to because I'm an avid fan myself," she answered.

LOYOLA WARNED

St. Mary's Would Welcome Playoff

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Jim Weaver, coach of St. Mary's explosive basketball team, said today that Loyola is "no cinch" to win the West Coast Athletic Conference title although the Lions face apparent paties in their last two games. "You don't win on paper," Weaver said when reminded that Loyola, which holds a half game lead over St. Mary's, can assure itself of at least a tie for first place by beating the feeble twosome of the University of the Pacific Friday and Pepperdine March 7. "It's when you think you have a cinch coming up that you get knocked off."

Weaver's club has captured five in a row, with one of the victories being a 92-61 stunner over Loyola in the militant Gael gym. They close out regular season play against sterner opposition, meeting Santa Clara and San Jose State this weekend and UOP March 7.

WANTS PLAYOFF

Weaver glowed at the possibility of facing Loyola again in a playoff.

"We won pretty emphatically last time and it could happen again — if there were a playoff," the bespectacled mentor said.

Tom Meschery, who scored 29 points for St. Mary's against San Jose State Friday night, settled for 20 Saturday while pacing the Gaels to a 64-46 win over the University of San Francisco. The Dons, who were just about eliminated from contention for the WCAC crown and the NCAA trip that goes to the winner, were held to one field goal during the opening 10 minutes of the second half. Meschery also dominated the boards by snagging 19 rebounds.

Don Jordan Given California License

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Ex-welterweight boxing champion Don Jordan is back in the good graces of the California Athletic Commission.

The commission granted the Los Angeles fighter a license Saturday, clearing the way for his scheduled bout March 11 with Carmen Basilio in Syracuse, N.Y.

Jordan had not been licensed in California since 1959. The commission objected to his association with former gambler Mickey Cohen.

Russ Promises World Jump Record Friday

NEW YORK (UPI)—Valery (Beau) Brumel, Russia's human sputnik, today promised he'll rocket to a new high jump record in the Knights of Columbus track meet at Madison Square Garden Friday night.

John Thomas, his sad-faced, vanquished foe, isn't promising anything—except that he'll show up, too, for the next Garden show.

Brumel outclassed Thomas for the third time in the National AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships at the Garden last Saturday night, equalling Thomas' meet record with a leap of seven feet, two inches.

A record crowd of 16,243 moaned loudly when Thomas failed to clear the 7-1 three times after passing the seven-foot mark on his first try.

ILL BEFORE MEET

Brumel revealed after the meet that he had been unable to practice for four days last week because of a sore throat. But even though he still was a little weak from the ailment, the 18-year-old Russian had little difficulty clearing 7-2. He then missed three times at 7-3—the same height he reached in matching Thomas' world record in his U. S. debut the previous week.

The K. of C. meet will be Brumel's last appearance in this country and he feels certain he can reach 7-4—or even 7-5—before returning home. Brumel showed up at last night's hockey game between the New York Rangers and Montreal Canadiens at the Garden and, speaking through an interpreter, said:

SHOOT THE WORKS

"I plan to shoot the works, as you Americans say, next Friday night. I didn't feel right Saturday but I hope to break the record the next time."

The handsome, brown-haired Russian also denied a report that he was "disappointed" in Thomas' recent efforts and said he expects the Boston University star will give him

Celts Near 5th Straight Title; Magic Number 2

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics' fifth straight Eastern Division crown in the National Basketball Assn. was all but assured today after the Celts lowered their magic number to two over the weekend.

But the remaining playoff berth in the Western Division is still up for grabs between Detroit and Cincinnati.

Boston won both of its weekend games, beating St. Louis 122-109 Saturday and leveling Detroit 113-109 yesterday. The two victories, combined with Philadelphia's 121-116 loss to Los Angeles yesterday, means the Celtics can gain the Eastern title with two victories, a pair of losses by Philadelphia or a combination of the two.

Even with the Boston loss, Detroit stayed two games in front of Cincinnati as the Royals also bowed, 148-122 to division champion St. Louis. Cincinnati has only 4 games left while Detroit has 6.

In the other game yesterday, Syracuse beat New York 136-110 while Philadelphia won from Cincinnati 129-120 in Saturday's only other game.

Blazer Mystified By '60 Slump; Bears Down At Camp To Keep Job

POENIX, Ariz. — It was just a year ago almost to the day that Bill Rigney opened the 1960 Giant training camp here in Phoenix and he thought Don Blasingame would be the hero of a pennant drive.

Rigney was extravagant in his praise of The Blazer, "everything wrapped into one, a left-handed leadoff man, a take-charge infielder and a skilled pivot man on the double play."

Rigney was not the only executive in the Giant organization who believed the two-for-one trade of Daryl Spencer and Leon Wagner to the Cardinals for Blasingame was a dream transaction. Hadn't The Blazer slammed 178 hits, scored 91 runs, stolen 15 bases and drawn 69 walks in 149 games for a .289 average?

Of course, what happened to Blasingame in 1960 is history, but why it happened is still a mystery, even to him. He checked in here for the '61 spring training season last Thursday although he was not due to report until today.

"I HIT like a pitcher last season so I came to camp early this year with the pitchers," said Blasingame. "I came to work, knowing that I'll have to bear down because there are a lot of good young players around here. That Joe Amalfitano is a good man who can play anywhere and I don't want him playing second base."

What happened last year? Blasingame doesn't know. "I just never started hitting," he said. "I never hit in spring training, but last year I never got started. Frankly, I don't know what it was. I wish I did. It was just one of those things."

EVEN THOUGH he hit only .235, 123 safeties in 523 AB's, did he have any reason why he did not draw more walks last year? As against his 69 for the Cardinals in '59 he drew only 49 for the Giants in the leadoff role last season.

"Again, I don't know," said Blasingame. "Maybe it was because I wasn't at bat as often and played in only 136 games against 150 the year before."

In Candlestick Park, Blasingame hit a miserable .211 and .254 on the road. Did Candlestick's wind bother him?

"I think it bothered a lot of us, but all parks have their individual problems and we'll have to learn how to live with Candlestick wind," he said. "Does it have me buffaloed? No. Even if I thought it did I wouldn't admit it. But it hasn't."

"I tried to pull the ball a little bit more than I normally would in Candlestick because some shots I hit to left field just floated in the wind for easy outs."

"ONE THING I intend to do more of this year is bunt."

And Blasingame, taking his turn in the batting cage, proceeded to practice push bunts down the third base line and drag bunts down the first base line.

The new rookie skipper of the Giants, Al Dark, watched The Blazer.

"I know what he can do," said Dark, "and I know that last year was not a proper sample of his work. I'm discounting that."

Palmer Captures Baton Rouge Open With 266 Total

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, who became the only triple winner on the winter tour with his repeat performance in the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open, yesterday today headed for the richer fields of the $30,000 New Orleans Open tourney which opens Thursday.

He was tied with Jackie Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., on the opening day, ahead by one stroke after the second round, by two strokes after three rounds and by seven at the finish on the strength of a 4-under-par 66 for a 266 total.

The victory earned Palmer $2,800 and boosted his winnings on the tour to $15,225. Wes Ellis Jr., of West Caldwell, N.J., turned a 69 over the 6,700-yard Sherwood Forest Country Club course for a 273 total worth $1,900.

There was a three-way tie for third place at 274 among Johnny Pott of Shreveport, La., Buster Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark., and Gary Player of Langhorne, Pa. Pott earned $1,233.34; Cupit and Player each won $1,233.23.

ago shaped up as a duel between the Alberta Ranches' Flutterby and Rex C. Ellsworth's Olden Times, the latter a stablemate o the new Santa Anita "cap champion."

But Alberta Ranches came up with another colt that might give both Flutterby and Olden Times a bad time. The name is Four-and-Twenty.

Jockey Johnny Longden, whose son Vance trains for Alberta, rode Four-and-Twenty to a victory and his time for a mile and one-sixteenth was 1:41 2-5, which is unusually fast for a colt at this time of year.

Among those who trailed out of the money was Papa's All, a leading California hope as a 2-year-old.

In the Santa Anita Handicap, Willie Shoemaker let Prove It loose when he chose and Prove It rolled on in to win with ridiculous ease by two and one-quarter lengths in two minutes flat.

Japanese Baseball Giants Visit U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—A selected squad of 28 Tokyo Yomiuri Giants baseball players left here today for Los Angeles en route to Vero Beach, Fla. to train with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Japanese players, led by Tetsuji Kawakami, new manager of the Tokyo ball club, departed by Japan Airlines jet due in Los Angeles about 11:30 a.m.

The Giants were invited to visit Dodgertown at Vero Beach by Dodgers President Walter O'Malley after his team visited Japan in 1956 following the World Series. The Tokyo club, owned by the Yomiuri newspapers, was 1960 runnerup in Japan's Central League.

Brown Calls For New Road Safety Program

SACRAMENTO (AP) — New laws beamed at drunken driving were proposed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown today in a five-point traffic safety program.

The governor called for more highway patrolmen, trial use of speed detection radar, a new fleet of roving patrol cars and a major overhaul of the state's driver licensing system.

Brown, in a special message to the legislature, termed California's highways the safest in the nation. But he said, in effect, we can do better.

He reaffirmed support of the mandatory six-months lifting of licenses for drunken driving but urged a break for first offenders who need their cars for their livelihood.

Brown proposed legislation, too, to strengthen use of breath tests for drunkenness.

This is what the governor recommended:

1. An increase of 310 highway patrolmen and 56 sergeants. The force now has 2,600 uniformed men.

2. Authority for trial courts to reduce the period of license suspension in first offense drunken driving cases which involve unusual hardship.

To make the breath tests stick, Brown advocated provisions requiring motorists to agree to the chemical tests as a condition to using the public highways.

How this would be done is not spelled out but presumably the driver would sign the agreement when he gets his license.

3. An 18-months program of "selective daytime enforcement" by the highway patrol to catch violators who, the governor observed, "presumably drive sanely only when they think a policeman is watching."

Brown asked for authority, always rejected before, to use radar during the period. The roving fleet would be manned by uniformed patrolmen in cars of various makes, models, sizes and colors but marked the same as regular patrol cars—with white door panels bearing the CHP insignia.

The proposal recognizes that most drivers can spot a patrol car, but at the same time the governor avoided getting into the controversial field of unmarked cars.

4. Overhaul of licensing procedures.

The chauffeur's licenses would be abolished; there would be a single license, with an endorsement indicating the kinds of vehicles which the driver can operate.

Other legislation would include adoption of the interstate driver's license compact so that California examiners can find out the driving records of applicants from other states.

The governor also urged trial adoption of the New Jersey system of retraining and relicensing delinquent drivers. Under this plan, all except drunken drivers can regain their licenses when they can convince the Department of Motor Vehicles they are willing and able to abide by the laws.

Brown recommended mandatory jail sentences for anyone who continues to drive after his license has been suspended or revoked.

5. Immediate creation of an inter-agency traffic safety committee to coordinate the research work of the Departments of Public Works, Public Health, Motor Vehicles and Highway Patrol. A $100,000 appropriation is requested.

The governor emphasized that the situation is not all black: that California has the safest highways of all the states and the traffic death rate has fallen steadily in the past 15 years.

"If the 1946 death rate had prevailed in 1960," he said, "we might have expected 8,009 traffic deaths last year rather than the 3,723 which actually occurred."

He proposed the new laws, he said, to crack down on the small percentage of drivers listed as chronic and willful violators.

Fair Weather Works Against Marin Heart Sunday Drive

Warm weather and sunny skies worked against the Heart Sunday drive yesterday. Mrs. John Bettinger, Marin County chairman reported.

Collections totaled $15,066 by midnight compared with $17,545 in the one-day drive last year, she said.

Almost 1,900 volunteers rang doorbells from 2 to 4 p.m. yesterday but approximately 38 per cent of the residents were not home.

Contributions can be mailed to the Heart Assn., 2044 Fourth Street, San Rafael, or any postmaster, Mrs. Bettinger said.

PLANE TO JOIN IN COUNTY'S MOSQUITO WAR

That buzzing low-flyin' object tomorrow or Wednesday mornings might be either a mosquito or an airplane after a mosquito.

Manager Paul Jones of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District announced today that arrangements have been made for a spray plane to fly over the Novato-Black Point area tomorrow, and over the salt marshes between Corte Madera and Richardson Bay Wednesday morning.

The plane comes from Davis so it probably won't get to work before 7 a.m. tomorrow, finishing about 9 to 10 a.m. Next day it should be on duty around 6:30 a.m. High winds might cause modification of schedule, said Jones.

College Coeds To Speak At High Schools

A panel of five College of Marin women students will open a spring tour of Marin County high schools at San Rafael High School Wednesday.

The purpose, according to chairman Janet Siemens of Kentfield, "is to better inform high school students of the academic and social activity programs offered by the college."

Miss Siemens, Judith Duerson of Corte Madera, Barbara Simontacchi of San Rafael, Cynthia Shehadi of San Anselmo and Nancy Pabis of San Rafael will speak from 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Each girl will discuss ways in which the college has been able to "meet her needs."

Miss Siemens, treasurer of the college's Associated Women Students, plans to enter University of California next fall. She will talk about the college's transfer program.

Miss Duerson, secretary of the Associated Students of the College of Marin, will speak on the advantages of a small college as opposed to a large school. She has attended San Francisco State.

Miss Simontacchi, enrolled in a vocational program at the college, will tell how she has successfully combined her studies with a part-time job.

Miss Shehadi, vice president of the Associated Women Students, plans to become an elementary school teacher, and will describe the pre-teaching program at the college. Miss Pabis will be the moderator.

Dates for the panel's appearances at other Marin high schools will be announced later.

Arks' Owners Willing To Tie In With Sewer

Forty-five arks on Corte Madera Creek have good prospects for being provided with sewers and ceasing to be water pollution sources, according to William L. Desmond, chief sanitation officer for Marin County.

Ten days ago Desmond sent out warning letters to the ark owners. He said today that "They all want to do something. It's just a question of straightening out several details, plus of course what the costs will be."

Next development will be a meeting at 7:30 p.m., March 7 of ark owners and the board of Corte Madera Sanitary District, said Desmond.

To be established at that time is whether the arks are within jurisdiction of the district.

Desmond said he feels there is no doubt, as taxes have been paid to the district for years.

Desmond said that so far, of the replies received, only one objector to sewer connection has turned up.

Some of the owners proved to be seasonal occupants whose arks are not sources of sewage at all times of the year, Desmond added.

The ark owners, organized in the Greenbrae Boardwalk Improvement Club, are exploring possible methods of financing the sewer project, Desmond reported.

Board Will Meet

The Marin Junior College District board of trustees will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the student body office, Harlan Hall, to discuss legislation.

SOLON WANTS HANDY NUMBER BACK AGAIN

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—A drunk is a drunk is a drunk.

That's about the way it would be under a bill by Assemblyman John A. O'Connell (D-San Francisco).

Just about the time Californians had been watching such TV thrillers as "Dragnet," "The Lineup" and a few others long enough to know that a "502" was the Penal Code section dealing with drunken driving, the legislature had to go and re-codify the Motor Vehicle Code.

Thrus a drunk driving case, rather than the handy 502, technically became a 23102. And that just wouldn't go on television. Just imagine: "Calling Car 43. Proceed to 11th and Elm and pick up a twenty-three-thousand, one-hundred-two."

So O'Connell's bill, AB1946, would permit Section 23102 of the vehicle code to be cited as Section 502.

Kennedy Gives Solons School Aid Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy sent Congress today proposed legislation to carry out part of his federal aid to education program.

He said he believes the measure "will help lift our schools to a new level of excellence."

In identical letters to Speaker Sam Rayburn and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, the president reiterated his hope for enactment of a federal aid bill to spend more than two billion dollars over the next three years for school construction and improved teachers' salaries.

"I am convinced that the national interest requires us to provide every child with an opportunity to develop his talents to their fullest," Kennedy said.

As outlined in his education message to Congress last Monday, Kennedy's bill would provide a minimum of $15 per pupil in federal aid to the states.

The bill would authorize 666 million dollars for the fiscal year starting July 1, 766 million for the following fiscal year and 866 million for the third year of the program to help states build public elementary and secondary schools and provide the necessary teachers' salaries.

Each state would be free to decide how to divide its allotment between construction and salaries.

The bill would permit each state to use up to 10 per cent of its first year allotment for pilot, demonstration and experimental projects intended to meet educational problems.

Other provisions in the bill would penalize any state which reduced its own financial efforts in education during the federal program. Grants to states would be reduced if they cut their school expenditures—the ratio of the outlay per pupil to the state's average income per pupil—below the average level of their efforts during the three years preceding the second or third year of the federal program.

What are 5 milestones in a happy marriage?

How the unique advantages of life insurance can bring greater satisfaction to all of them—assuring peace of mind at the stroke of a pen

1 The Wedding.

With life insurance, a family is protected right from the start. For only life insurance guarantees, at the stroke of a pen, an amount of money far greater than most couples could save in many years.

2 The birth of their children.

By figuring in advance what it will cost to give their children a college education, parents can make sure—through their life insurance—that college expenses can be met.

3 The day they move into their own home.

A prudent husband safeguards the home his family loves by owning enough life insurance to take care of any unpaid mortgage. Life insurance guarantees this protection.

4 The job opportunity they've worked for.

The risks of a new business or job opportunity can be assumed more readily when the family is protected by life insurance. And with life insurance, husband and wife know in advance exactly how much money will be available for an emergency, at any given time.

5 The retirement they've planned together.

A husband and wife can get more pleasure from their later years when they plan their life insurance to provide a steady income which will last for both their lifetimes.

The wise family head carefully estimates his family's future needs, then plans his life insurance accordingly. Since family circumstances often change, many couples renew their programs with their life insurance agent each year. In this way, they get the most from the unique advantages of their life insurance.

Outdoor Art Club Program On Investments; Adopts Resolution

Highlights of Thursday afternoon's Outdoor Art Club Guest Day meeting were a program on "Shopping For Investments" and vote by the membership to support all efforts to conserve as open recreational land the south and east faces of Mount Tamalpais.

During the business meeting conducted by vice president Mrs. Edmund Mahon in the absence of the president, Mrs. Philip T. Smith, conservation chairman Mrs. R. Lannert Iglehart explained the resolution passed by the board of directors regarding the land on Mount Tamalpais.

Mrs. Iglehart said that since the club was founded largely for purposes of conservation, the board of directors on learning that the Marin Municipal Water District might dispose of the land in question and sharing community consternation over the possibility, passed a resolution favoring conservation of the land for open recreational purposes. It was this resolution that was unanimously endorsed by the membership.

For the program Stanley Stephenson, vice president of a San Francisco investment firm, lectured on "Shopping For Investments."

He urged making a long range plan to provide maximum "Protection" for life and death contingencies.

Ross School Founders Day To Feature Talk On Machine

The Ross School Founders' Day program, to be held tomorrow at 8 p.m., will feature a talk about a revolutionary teaching machine which has attracted such wide attention that it has been written about in the Saturday Evening Post, Readers' Digest, and Time.

The guest speaker will be Maxwell Benkert of the Grollier Society in San Francisco, sponsors of the machine. Parents and guests attending the meeting will hear first-hand information on how students can learn history, mathematics, languages and all other subjects in shorter period of time and with better results.

Benkert will attempt to prove his point with a demonstration of the machine, including a five-minute "course" for those present. Another feature of this teaching device is its suitability for home use for additional or remedial work, as it is both portable and less costly than other types of machines, reports Mr. Ray Hubbard, program chairman, who will introduce Mr. Benkert.

Presiding the program, cake and coffee will be served by Mrs. Frederick Coe, hospitality chairman, assisted by Mesdames F. N. Scatena Jr., Girvin Peck, and John Cahill.

VENICE'S MAIN STREET is the Grand Canal. It is lined by ancient palaces. Favorite mode of transportation is the gondola. No other city in the world has the charm and beauty of Venice.

Italy's Treasures To Be Seen On Tour

LEIGH CHAMBERLAIN
Many a visitor to Italy has bemoaned the fact that insufficient time was allotted for unorganized pursuits. This does not hold true of the Peggy Wilberg European Friendship Tour, which will be there April 27-May 9.

Italy's capital reclines elegantly on a cushion of seven hills.

Sightseeing will include the Quirinal Palace, once the home of kings and now the presidential palace; Trevi Fountain; the Pantheon, with its dome, unsupported by pillars rising to an awe-inspiring height of 142 feet above the floor; St. Paul's Outside-the-Walls, the Colosseum and Vatican City.

On other days there'll be trips to Terracina, Pozzuoli and Naples, where the tour will stay overnight. Thus it'll be possible to take the excursion steamer to the Isle of Capri.

Meals are not included during the stay in Rome. That's no problem, for the capital is a gourmet's paradise.

Italian currency is about the prettiest you'll find anywhere. It's called lire, and there are 625 lire to the U.S. dollar.

When out shopping, silk should be your first choice, ties, scarves, lingerie. You'll also find wonderful bargains in gloves, jewelry, religious items, cameos and leather goods.

The journey from Rome to Florence passes through the Hill Towns. One follows in the steps of Italian history. Even the very place names seem to whisper of lovely ladies and jousting knights—Viterbo, Orvieto, Assisi, the birthplace of St. Francis, Perugia and many others. This is the road that leads to Florence, a superb treasure trove of art.

Excursions in the city will include the Medici Chapels, containing the tombs and sarcophagi of the Medici and the Grand Dukes of Tuscany; the Basilica of San Lorenzo; Pitti Palace with its magnificent tapestries; Uffizi Galleries containing an unrivaled collection of Florentine, Umbrian, Sienese and Venetian masters.

In Florence, the travelers are advised to tie himself over to the Via Tornabuoni, which is Florence's Fifth Avenue. Then stock up on leather goods (cigarette boxes and cases; spectacle cases, vanity cases, belts), skirts, shoes and female wearables of straw and raffia, ties, silver, embroidery and antiques.

In Venice, if you don't watch your step, you can get soaked on Main Street, which is the Grand Canal.

Venetian art, distinguished by its unusually lavish application of colors, can be readily understood if one stands beside a canal during sunset. The colors that fill the sky and bathe the buildings make the whole place look like a Christmas calendar.

City tours will include such well-known features as St. Mark's Square and the Byzantine Cathedral, Bridge of Sighs, Rialto Bridge and other landmarks.

An unusual entertainment will be an after-dinner gondola ride. In accompanying gondolas will be musicians and singers.

Venice is famous for its glassware. Glass is made into ash trays, vases, dishes, bowls and chandeliers. Other good buys are lace, jewelry, leather goods, silver.

The Peggy Wilberg European Friendship Tour. It leaves San Francisco on April 17, returns June 7 and visits Portugal, Spain, Italy, Austria, Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France and England.

The price of $1,749 can be financed by convenient Fly Now — Pay Later arrangements.

Tour membership can be obtained by contacting Redwood Travel Advisors, San Rafael, or any Swissair office.

Fashions 'Take Off' Thursday On A Friendship View Flight

Announcing the departure of a Swiss Air fashion flight bound for a European Friendship Tour. Fasten your fashion belt, please!

Picture Council Hears Talk By Police Chief

At the regular monthly meeting of the Marin Motion Picture Council, guest speaker, Police Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur expressed grave concern for the growing crime rate among children.

"Six-hundred and fifty thousand children between the ages 10 and 17 years were arrested in the United States last year for major crimes, such as murder, robbery, theft and rape." These youngsters receive an arrest record which in later life often bars them from positions of trust. He said there was no doubt but that motion pictures and the television had an influence on our youth.

Mrs. Paul A. Hammer, president, reported on the Motion Picture and Television workshop recently held in San Francisco. She stated that so far five Marin County High Schools have indicated they will participate in the Council's essay contest. She urged members to encourage students to compete for the cash prizes which will be awarded at the Council's annual April Luncheon.

New individual members and club organizations were welcomed into the Council, and a general invitation was issued to others wishing to join in the Motion Picture Council's efforts to provide better entertainment for Marin County youth.

So says a charming Swiss Air stewardess on Thursday at the Ondine in Sausalito as she welcomes you to "Fashion Flies a Friendship Flight." Take off time is 12:30 p.m. with a promenade of airborne outfits from a San Francisco store to ride the airways (or the highways if you have to stay stateside this spring!)

With a flick of your fanciful imagination, the elegant Ondine setting will become the lovely interior of a Swiss Air liner and the vista from the Ondine windows a reminder of the magnificent views to be seen on Peggy Wilberg's European Friendship Tour which in reality leave April 17 for 51 glorious days.

Every member of the European Friendship Tour will be more than a tourist — they will be a friend, a personal ambassador of goodwill and friendship talking with mayors, officials and townpeople through Europe learning to know more about the people of each country and helping them to know more about Americans.

Appropriately, Peggy Wilberg, in private life Mrs. John Wilberg of Mill Valley, noted lecturer, author, and world traveler, will become Thursday's special guest with a viewpoint, and see "the look" of the San Francisco specialty store recommended for her European Friendship Tour.

Taking off on the fashion "runway," the aisles of the simulated Swiss Air liner, will be Mesdames William Donohue, John Armsbruster, Jack Codding, John Belamy Jr., and Robert Roat.

Reservations for Thursday's fashion flight may be made by calling the Ondine.

READY TO BOARD Thursday's Fashion Flight at the Ondine in Sausalito is June Mapes fashionably outfitted by a San Francisco shop to travel to Europe with Peggy Wilberg's Friendship Tour. Thursday fashions will travel equally well at home! The luncheon and fashions begin at 12:30 o'clock.

Our Appetite For Meals Outside The Home Increases Each Year

NEW YORK (UPI) — Our appetite for meals outside the home increases each year. So does the number of eateries catering to our multi-billion-dollar capacity.

Latest figures from the American Restaurant Magazine, a trade publication, showed that in the last two decades the bill for meals eaten out has more than quadrupled. In 1940, we spent $4.75 billion; in 1945, $9.5 billion, and in 1960, $18 billion.

A census of retail trade summary showed that in addition, the number of restaurants has grown from approximately 170,000 in 1939 to 230,000 in 1958, the latest year available.

Various government agency and industry reports tell more on the dining-out explosion. Outside food bills rank fourth on the list of consumer spending, led only by food and beverages consumed in the home, by rentals, and clothing and accessories.

Before World War II, restaurant or hotel dining was infrequent with families in lower income groups.

By 1950, 15 to 20 per cent of this group was dining out frequently.

In 1909, only 3 per cent of the average city family's food spending was in restaurants. By 1950, it had jumped to 20 per cent.

The American Restaurant China Manufacturers Association said one of its surveys indicated that now, some 46 per cent of families with an annual income of $5,500 to $7,500 dined out at least once a week. The figure goes up to 49 per cent for those in the $7,500 to $10,000, drops back to 43.3 per cent (reason unexplained) in the $10,000 to $15,000 bracket, and up to 61 per cent for the over-$16,000 group.

The custom of leaving the children home with the sitter also is fading. The association found that some 57 per cent of families queried in 36 states take the children along.

10 Independent-Journal, Monday, Feb. 27, 1961

Dining out is most prevalent in the big cities; least practiced, in the farm belt; and is more customary in the East and Far West than in other sections of the country.

Why the dining out explosion?

The obvious answer is that Mom gets tired of cooking the three squares and of the dish washing daily.

But there are many others, cited by industry sources.

These include the generally higher income level of recent years; the increase in leisure time; the increasing number of families on the go in the last 20 years; the jump in the number of married women who hold outside jobs and want—and can afford—the occasional break from the kitchen;

Fewer servants; the growing number of industrial cafeterias; the school lunch program which has conditioned children to dining out; the numerous credit card systems, and the trend to late evening shopping downtown.

Restaurant operators say there still are some hurdles. Television, when a habit in the family, is death to the restaurant and hotel dining rooms. Backyard barbecuing also cuts into the restaurant business.

And another study of the China Manufacturers group concluded women would like some improvements in restaurant and hotel service.

Some 300 lady diners said their "ideal" eatery would offer fresh vegetables "not overcooked to a watery mess, provide either coffee or tea as free extras on a meal, would use a china service fitting the restaurant atmosphere, have the check include the tip, provide larger tables with more space between them, offer plenty of attention from waiters, but no "hovering" or hurrying, clean white tablecloths, and "enough light to read the menu by."

AMONG THE HUNDREDS who have aided the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. in preparing the 44,000 Easter Seal envelopes for mailing were these members of the Society. "Stuffing bees" have been held daily at the Society's headquarters in San Rafael and present at one of these were from left, Mesdames Clarence DeLong of San Rafael, return seals chairman; Leo Dobbins of San Anselmo, Society campership chairman; Frank Keaton of Ross, co-chairman of mailing with Mrs. John Fitzhenry.

THREE LONG-TIME members of the Society have their hands in the act, too, as everyone joins in stuffing Easter Seals into envelopes to begin a mail campaign on March 4 which brings hope to thousands of handicapped children and adults of Marin

County. Mrs. John Fitzhenry of San Anselmo, a past president and mailing chairman, center, keeps supplies on hand for Mesdames Raymond Buchignani of San Rafael, left, a past president also, and Paul Riley of San Anselmo, membership chairman. (Mack photos.)

Dr. Edward S. Ross of 57 Lee Street, Mill Valley, curator of the Department of Entomology of the California Academy of Sciences, is author of "Hunting Africa's Smallest Game" in the March issue of National Geographic magazine. Close-up photographs of insects taken in collecting trips through Africa and Madagascar accompany the article.

Foolish Forties Planned March 11 At Rec Center

The Foolish Forties will be memorialized at the Southern Marin Recreation Center on Saturday, Mar. 11 when the Center presents the first of its annual series of dances for members and their guests.

Co-chairmen in charge, David Kamp and Alan Cundall suggest those attending dig down into the bottom of the trunk to find clothing from the decade 1940 to 1950. This, they explain, may mean a military uniform or a middy blouse. Or guests may come as riveters, zoot suiters or a gremlin.

Nostalgic music will be provided by John Del Mar who is taping the best of the old ones and a swinging combo featuring Lloyd Stark and Mrs. Stanley Petersen of Little Reed Heights, who is billed as the Silverado Songbird, will perform at intermission.

A post midnight breakfast will be served instead of dinner usually the feature of the Center dances. Reservations may be made by writing the Center at Box 436, Belvedere.

Fashion Carnival Dates Announced By Mothers' Guild

St. Raphael's Mothers Guild will sponsor a Fashion Carnival, March 8, 9, 10 and 11 in the school social hall.

Fashions from several women's shops in the area will be offered for sale. All clothes will be new and will be priced far below the original price. Included in the sale will be skirts, blouses, dresses, separates and formals. There will be a variety of sizes including women's and teen-ager sizes.

Chairman for the Fashion Carnival is Mrs. Raymond Cerutti, co-chairman Raymond Taylor. Designing and distributing posters are Mesdames Harry Barbier and Urban Morf. Assisting with the sale are Mesdames Charles Brown, Caesar Taverna, Mortimer McCarthy, Jack Cunningham, Paul Sasse, Robert Kell, Stephen Gilardi, Leo J. Ryan and Herbert Jacobs.

To enable the Guild members and their guests to view the clothes, the sale will start Wednesday, March 8 preceding the regular monthly Guild meeting. The sale will be open to the public on Thursday, March 9, Friday, March 10 and Saturday, March 11 from 10 o'clock in the afternoon.

Personal Vendettas Against Those Annoying Little Things

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Each of us in the everyday pattern of living fights a personal vendetta against the annoying little things.

Maybe it's the struggle to open the vacuum-pack can of coffee at seven in the morning, when the key inevitably gets tangled. Maybe it's hopping the bus only to find you're out of coins and the driver growls he won't change a bill.

Raymond Loewy, the famous industrial designer, once wrote a wonderful treatise on his private war with lamp cords coiled around the legs of tables, lampshades that teeter and tilt, drawers that snarl, shudder and stick when he tries to open them, sugar in the mayonnaise, unpluckable tabs on captions that must be lifted by thumbnail, books that won't lie open, gasoline gauges that fib, and chewing gum under his heel.

Around our house every so often, we sit down with Mr. Loewy's list and add to it with several items of our own. Or, we bring the subject up at a cocktail party and start all present getting the little annoyances out of their system.

Why, for instance, is it that a television set will receive all the westerns and commercials perfectly, but let a president stage a news conference before the cameras and the screen produces nothing but a scramble of lines. Why is it that the air-conditioner has a persistent rattle until the day a repairman arrives and then it purrs.

Why is it that an earring drops while you're dressing and rolls under a low piece of furniture instead of stopping out in the open where you can spot it and reach it easily. And why, if industrial designers can develop a perfect pull-tab for cigarettes and chewing gum, can't they do the same for the cellophane-wrapped package of sliced cheese. Or, develop an easy-to-install typewritten ribbon guaranteed not to smudge the fingers.

And why is it still a man's world in so many facets of the clothing industry. The men have a quick, snap-opener umbrella; as far as I can determine, we women can't buy the type. Menswear manufacturers automatically stitch in a tab at the collar of a man's coat for hanging; we women have to go on hanging our coats by the neck or upper armhole on coat racks in restaurants or snack bars.

Men get minor alterations on clothing purchases for free; we pay dearly for moving a button over or having a hemline altered.

And while we are talking of clothing, why don't manufacturers sew snaps, loops and buttons on so they stay for several wearings instead of barely making it through one. How about basing those fabric-covered belts on something which, like the rest of the garment, will survive the cleaning solutions, or else forewarn us women that the belt should be hand-cleaned.

Why does the cosmetics industry scent everything, but everything! Wearing one favorite perfume should be a girl's privilege; instead we smell like an assortment of odors from a whole perfume counter, simply in application or removal of cosmetics. A lipstick has one scent, powder another, foundation a third, cold cream a fourth, and hair spray the fifth, and usually most devastating of all.

One of my associates called attention today to the ultimate in scenting—the monthly bill from a New York department store carried a perfumed insert. "It didn't," she said, "make paying it any easier."

Born Plain? Grow Pretty

If you are a plain Jane, do not despair. Beauty can develop in the teen years, if you help sow the seeds of charm that can grow with the years.

But you must know your own looks, and learn how to bring out the best in YOU. A peek at the photograph albums of some of our most glamorous movie stars would reveal that they were not true beauties in their teen years. But they used those years to learn how to improve their looks.

Take an inventory of yourself, and begin your remodeling plan. Correct the obvious faults before you tackle the big flaws.

1. Grooming: It's the habit that pays off. Are your legs fuzz-free? (Easy to remedy by frequent use of the razor.) Is your hair clean and shiny? (Shampoo it at the first sign of limpness and keep combs and brushes clean.) Do you bathe regularly? Brush your teeth after meals?

Do you wear spanking clean lingerie and hosiery? (This is very important during the years when glands are more active, especially if girls are athletic and engage in after-school sports.) Drip-dry, quick-drying underwear makes it possible to have clean underclothes at hand in a jiffy.

2. Do you have a blemished complexion? If so, don't hide in a corner or walk around with your head down. One visit to your doctor may curb the situation and prevent a bad case of acne. He may recommend a salve or lotion, and suggest a diet to help clear blemish. The increased activity of oil glands during teen years often makes pores muddy and creates blackheads. Makeup should be removed with several soaps of warm water, and the skin should be rinsed thoroughly to make sure there is no residue to clog the pores.

3. Is your hair style the best one for you? If your face is chubby, do not wear a coiffure that is flattened on top and pulled out at the sides. It will make your face seem rounder. Wear a hair-style that puts width across the top of your head with sides flattened to the face. Bangs that start at the center of the head and fan forward into a wide spread just slightly below the hairline is an ideal style for your type.

If your face is long, keep the hair flat on top and puffed out at sides. Curl your hair under

Girl Scouts Hold Trips, Overnights

Twin Investiture ceremonies, an indoor overnight and trips around Marin have made February a busy month for local Girl Scouts.

February will be the birth-month of newly organized Larkspur Brownie Scout Troop 109. Having two Investiture ceremonies, six new members were invested two weeks ago, while five other girls will receive their pins this week. Mothers of the new Brownies were invited to the ceremonies. Carol Franklin, recently transferred from Los Angeles, received her year pin at the first ceremony. Leaders of the troop, which meets at the Redwoods Presbyterian Church, are Mrs. Glenn Franklin and Robert Dewar.

Intermediate Scout Troop 121 of Ross toured Hamilton Air Force Base last weekend. The 39 girls saw a demonstration of the helicopters engaged in rescue work, fire fighting equipment, the F-101B Voodoo Fighter and the swamp gliders, and the dog "members" of the K-9 Corps used to guard the base at night. An emergency landing at the field provided an unscheduled portion of the morning's excitement. WAF Capt. Lawler was in charge of with big puff rollers. A center part with little winged curls on either side may be a good style.

A square-jawed type should wear the hair pulled upward. Any easy-to-care-for style that goes upward from the forehead. Such as a series of feathery curls or a large upswept wave to one side will offset the square-face look.

4. Feature Flaws: These may be corrected by the deft use of makeup on those big special occasions. A wide nose may be made narrower by using two foundations, light down the bridge of the nose, and a much darker shade on the sides of the nose. Apply the same principle to cut down a wide or plump face, giving the illusion of a slimmer face.

Use the lighter makeup over nose, chin and forehead, and the darker makeup at the sides of the face. Use a darker powder over the entire area.

5. Figure Faults: If you are overweight—heavy-hipped and tire-waisted now is the time to the tour. Accompanying the group are Mesdames: L. G. MacLise, Joseph Prola, Richard Zoellner, T. C. Hossfeld, Robert de Fremery, and Nancy Ingalls.

Mothers were invited to attend the Court of Awards held by the Raven Patrol of San Anselmo Troop 191. Following the presentation of badges, including the Dancer badge, earned at a course at the Arthur Murray Dance Studio, the Intermediate Scouts entertained their mothers with games, songs and refreshments. The patrol recently had an indoor overnight at the First Presbyterian Church, with evening fun of games, skits and popcorn, following their dinner. The Scouts are currently enrolled in a course at the John Robert Powers School, while working on the Good Grooming Badge. The leader of the patrol is Mrs. Phillip E. Gilbert.

The eighteen members of Brownie Scout Troop 66 visited a florist recently. The Mill Valley third and fourth graders were taught how to make a carnation corsage and learned about the various flowers during the tour of the shop. Mesdames Melvin Klyce, Andrew Collins and Lawrence Pritchard accompanied the girls.

learn what to eat, and to start regular exercises. Summer and winter sports, swimming, skiing, skating, and even walking will help reducing plan along.

Tam Open House Dates Announced

Dates for open house observances in the Tamalpais Union High School District were announced today by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle.

The observances are held during public schools week, April 24-28. Open house at Tamalpais High will be April 25, at Drake April 26 and at Redwood April 27.

Star Of Sea YLI Party Tomorrow

Star of the Sea, Y L I's last recent meeting was followed by a party with Mrs. J. E. Converse as chairman. Thursday's "Gad A Bouts" dinner was held at "Little India" with Mrs. M. A. Freethy as chairman.

Tomorrow the regular meeting will be followed by a party with Mrs. Anthony Madeiros as chairman.

Important in the activities of the YLI is the forthcoming Hawaiian Holiday arranged by both the YLI and YMI. A round trip cruise to Hawaii from May 17 to June 7 will be led by an experienced travel director and YMI Grand President, Richard Gibson. Sailing day from San Francisco aboard the Matson liner "Lurline" is Wednesday, May 17, returning by ship to San Francisco on Wednesday, June 7. Transition from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle or Portland by jet plane round trip or one way is optional. The cruise will include tours by air, motor car and boat of the Islands of Oahu, Hawaii and Kauai with congenial companions, and many added features. The ideal itinerary is open to the public and promises fun and a rewarding vacation.

For brochures, information or reservations, interested persons are invited to contact Mrs. Ethel Cullen, YLI Grand Secretary, 50 Oak Street, San Francisco; or Joseph Morello, tour manager, of Ignition Council No. 35, YMI at 209 Post Street, San Francisco.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Feb. 27, the 58th day of the year with 307 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mars and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1807, American poet, translator, and teacher Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was born in Portland, Me.

In 1902, American novelist John Steinbeck was born in Salinas, Calif.

In 1931, Congress overrode President Hoover's veto and passed the bonus bill for the aid of U. S. war veterans.

In 1930, the U. S. Supreme Court outlawed sit-down strikes.

In 1942, the battle of the Java Sea began. Ultimately the Japanese won it, sinking 13 warships as compared to the loss of two in their own navy.

A thought for today: Thomas Huxley said: "Logical consequences are the scarecrows of fools and the beacons of wise men."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

JUNK CROP FROM BAY — Army Engineer Joseph R. Collins of 34 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, watches loaded debris boat Raccoon finish a day's sweeping in the Oakland estuary as it prepares to return to its base in Sausalito.

BAN ON BURNING BLAMED

Debris Increasing In Bay; Cost Of Cleanup Mounts

By JOHN CHAMBERS

In the past three years — since the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District banned open-dump burning — the amount of debris cluttering San Francisco Bay has increased at an alarming rate.

It is costing the Army Engineers $235,000 this year to sweep up the debris. In 1957, when the air pollution district's famous Order No. 1 went into effect, the cost of harvesting the debris crop was $64,684.

Clearing the bay of unwanted junk keeps three boats busy all year long. Ten years ago the debris "fleet" pulled in two tons of trash a day; now the haul runs anywhere from 10 to 50 tons a day.

Fire Chief Charles R. Reilly of Marin County charged that Marin residents contribute their share of debris by dumping household trash and garbage in the ocean and tide-lands.

"Dumping in unauthorized places has increased sharply since they (air pollution control district directors) started that burning ban," the chief declared.

"The burning ban may be clearing the air, but I never thought we had a serious smog problem here," Reilly said. "It's no big improvement if the burning ban creates these unauthorized dumps."

But compared with other counties, Marin's contribution to the debris problems of the bay is practically nil, declared William Desmond, sanitation director for the Marin County Health Department.

"Much of the debris is coming down the rivers from the industries along the Contra Costa County shore," Desmond said.

Other industrial areas in Alameda and San Francisco Counties contribute their share, he said.

But Marin has very few industries and even fewer that dump waste in the bay, Desmond added.

"Sausalito is about the only debris-producing area in Marin County," Desmond said. "But a little comes from Corte Madera Creek."

It is produced by the deteriorating waterfront area, he said. Rotting wharves and piers, arks, ferry boats and old hulks all contribute debris which circulates out into the bay.

"The hulks and old pilings are breaking up a lot faster today than they did five years ago," Desmond declared. "Our work is clearing up water pollution is bringing back the marine life that attacks the hulks. Formerly the pollution killed them."

Flotsam from deteriorating wharves and from industrial and commercial dumps includes large timbers, automobile tires, broken boxes, water-soaked lumber, logs, cans, bottles and other junk.

As shown by the bay model in Sausalito, the debris circulates throughout the bay and flows in and out with the tide through the Golden Gate.

It is a hazard to small craft, ocean-going steamers and water skiers. It helps make many beaches unsuitable for public use, and clogs drainage outlets and salt water intakes.

The debris has restricted the use of the Alameda Naval Air Station seadrome and caused a seaplane patrol squadron to be transferred to Puget Sound, Wash., last August.

Debris-clearing operations started during World War II. In 1942, when Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and his staff flew into San Francisco, their seaplane struck a floating object in the bay and the pilot was killed. As a result the chief of engineers in Washington ordered a program to prevent similar mishaps.

Today, daily sweepings are made by two small 45-foot tugs and the 104-foot-long debris-boat Raccoon.

As it sweeps, the Raccoon, which went into service last year, propels a catamaran—resembling a large sieve—through the water.

After a day's debris crop is collected, the "fleet" sails to the Army Engineers base yard at Sausalito where the junk is burned in a $131,000 incinerator which was constructed two years ago.

But despite daily bay surface sweepings, the bumper drift crop is increasing navigational perils and turning San Francisco Bay into a watery-eyed hag.

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

Marina Gardens Apartments Will Have Official Opening On Weekend

First unit in the new Marina Gardens Apartments constructed by Parnow Brothers at 137 Canal Street, San Rafael, is now nearing completion and official opening will be next Saturday and Sunday. A model apartment furnished by Lachman Brothers, San Rafael, will be shown.

This development is across the street from the Marina Landings Apartments also constructed by Parnow Brothers.

Actually there will be two 20-unit buildings, but the second of these probably won't be ready for another five or six weeks. All units are two-room, running from $145 to $160 per month including water and garbage service. Apartments feature entry hall, central floor plan, private balconies, electric kitchen and disposal units.

Landscaping is still under way, so the gardens, patio, and swimming pool are not yet completed. Mrs. Leonard Loden is the manager on the premises.

JAMES JAMBUR of Mill Valley, who used to operate the Shell service station on Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, has recently taken over the new Bon Air Shell station at 295 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae, between the Bon Air Shopping Center and the Greenbrae Bowl.

He will have his grand opening celebration Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Premiums, prizes and gifts for the youngsters are being featured.

Davies, 160 San Rafael Drive, Belvedere, is attending an insurance educational conference of New York Life Insurance Co. representatives today and tomorrow in New York City. He made an outstanding sales record with the company last year.

MOTORCRAFT: Don't be too quick to downgrade women drivers. Two of them are competing in the Mobilgas Economy Run next month in Plymouths—Mary Davis and Ginny Sims, who took high honors in the same event last year. They may hit the top again . . . Motor vehicle registrations in Marin County totaled more than 75,000 by the end of 1960—up a good 10 per cent from 1959. . . There are more roads and streets in Marin than five years ago, but total mileage throughout the U.S.A. has shown only a slight gain during that period . . . Output of cars for the first quarter this year is likely to be even lower than January through March, 1958, which was poor enough.

TRENDS: Electricity meters are still the most numerous of all utility measuring units in Marin (almost 50,000) and showed the biggest gain in the past year. Gas meters are the lowest (a little over 43,000) but made 8 per cent gains; water meters went up some 4 per cent (now somewhat better than 44,000) and telephones World production of crude oil in 1959 was estimated to be 7,042,000,000 barrels. Of this, the U.S. produced 36.5 per cent.
